the Senate chamber. E. T. Tallaferro, the Tammany candidate for Assembly against Judson Lawson in the Twenty-third District, has only been about three years in this city. He came from the South, and his first public appearance was at a Fourth of July elebration at the Wigwam. He is very tall and very thin. His appearance on the platform at the time, with Col. Fellows standing beside him, furnished uproarious merriment.

Willis Holly, who is conducting the Grant campaign, is so much like the latter in manner and appearance that he is sometimes mistaken for him. There is a rumor afloat that he is slated for a Police Justiceship whether Grant is elected or not. Supervisor of the City Record William J. K. Kenny is a gentleman about whom there is another such story.

such story.

Whatever the result of Tuesday's election may be, both Strong and Grant have demonstrated that they are "hustlers." Four and five meetings a night for each is nothing unusual. Last night Grant made only two speeches, claiming each time that he was the only Democratic candidate.

candidate.

Loton Horton, the self-made and wealthy milk dealer of the upper west side, is doing good work for the State Democracy in his district. He had a meeting of voters at his store, 373 Amsterdam avenue, tast evening and enlisted new men for work on election day. Most of them are either converts from Tammany Hall or men who have hitherto not been in the habit of taking an active part in politics. Mr. Horton is a larke employer of labor and is popular with him men.

William Travers Jerome, manager of the Committee of Seventy's campaign, has blossomed out into the neatest kind of leaders who call upon him for advice and "collateral." His quarters kind of leaders who call upon him for a little cramped, and he has got into the habit of asking some visitors to "step outside a minute" while others are getting an audience.

Association of Southern Democrats, has written a vigorous letter indorsing Hill for Governor. He also favors Grant for Mayor.

Wheeler men are jubilant over the letter received from ex-Postmaster-General Thomas L. James in reply to a circular. He says he cannot understand why a Republican or even an honest Democrat should vote for Hill.

One of the characteristics of this year's Democratic campaign is the secrecy with which all the business of the canvass is conducted at State head-quarters. The doors leading to the roms of Chairmen Thacher and Hinkley and Lieut-Gov, Sheehan are guarded by deputy sergeants-nt-arms, and it is most difficult to obtain an audience with any of the campaign managers. It is amusing to note the curious gances cast at Richard Croker by the politicians at Democratic State head-quarters whenever the ex-boss pays a visit to the party managers. Even Sensor Hill is not as much noticed. Croker's approach is invariably heralded by some one standing around, and the whisperel words: "Here's Dick Croker' is a signal for everybody within visual distance to turn and follow the retired chief with their eyes until he disappears from view.

of Massachusetts.

Dear Sir—I have received your kind and urgent request to make an address in your behalf in Brooklyn during the pending campaign. Your invitation finds me engaged in an important trial here, which has been going on for a couple of weeks, and will continue through this week, and which I cannot possibly abandon or neglect I am, therefore, obliged to decline your invitation as I have been compelled to decline many others obtained of this State. In fact, I have been so busy that I shall not be able to speak even in my own State until the closing two days of the sampaign. Clearly my first duty is to my party here, which has so loyally supported me in the past.

Permit me to say, however, in closing that ermit me is say, however, in closing that my mersonal interest in you, and my confidence your shiftly and high character, and my lee that you would most efficiently represent and ocate the progressive policy and reform, with chour party is identified, make me carnestly he for your success. Prize-Fighting Not in His Line. A report was circulated some days ago that member of a firm of wholesale clothiers, in the Second Assembly District, had heen the backer of a proposed prize fight that was said to have come off in the Elizabeth street pre-cinct. Mr. Levy, who enjoys the reputation of being a quiet, peaceable young man, says there is no fruth in the report and that prize fighting was not in his line of business.

Kunzeman is too big a power in the district, however, and now that he has the State Democracy indorsement his election is assured.

Senator Jacob A. Cantor, who is running for Congress in the Fifteenth District against Robert Grier Monroe, State Democrat, and Philip B. Low, Republican, will, if elected, secure an office which he has coveted for many years. A Problem for Horsemen.

I have inquired in vain of all the horsemen I know why horses when standing along a sidewalk almost invariably stand with their forefect on the curb, says the Louisville Post. I cannot imagine any reason for it, and all my questionings of those who one might very well suppose would know have remained unanswered. It is interesting to notice the number of horses which indulge in this sort of elevation when pulled up alongside a sidewalk. Perhaps they do it to ease the strain on their check reins, though how it does it I cannot imagine. A Problem for Horsemen.
